Hello RCCC Curlers,

05 November 2020

We are writing to provide you an update on the COVID-19 cases at RCCC and an update on the re-opening:

Update of current situation:

- There are 8 COVID-19 cases associated with RCCC. We have recently been informed of 2 more cases (cases 7 & 8) associated with the Men's evening Member league on Thursday October 22nd.
- In addition, case 8 also curled in the Saturday morning 8am ACT league on October 24th.
- The skips of the teams that played on the sheets associated with the positive curlers have been contacted. This information has also been forwarded to Public Health.
- We had planned to open Friday November 6th, however considering this new information the Club will now be reopening for league play starting this coming Sunday November 8th. This is consistent with the 14-day incubation period for when the known cases were present at RCCC.
- We continue to encourage all curlers to monitor their symptoms and call 811 should you have any further questions or concerns.

We will continue to update our response based on direction from Public Health officials.

We continue to hope for the swift recovery of the 8 curlers that are currently affected.

Our club's COVID committee and RCCC Management are currently working on additional safety measures which will be communicated in advance of your next scheduled league game.

Any additional questions or concerns regarding this communication can be directed to covid@royalcitycc.com.

Thank you,

Stephen Kopf
Club President
